Covid-19 update: Wednesday 15th July 2020

Dear all,

There seems to be a great deal of confusion circulating amongst the boating community regarding the possibility of visiting Braye Harbour or any of the bays surrounding Alderney.

To clarify:

- The Bailiwick islands of Guernsey, Alderney and Sark are at this time still closed to vessels from outside of our local jurisdiction.
- Free travel between the islands is currently only possible for vessels and crews whom are ordinarily resident within the islands.
- A 14 day isolation period is still in place for anyone granted permission to come to the island. Those who come ashore without permission are breaking the law and subject to severe financial penalties.

We would greatly appreciate your assistance in passing on this information throughout the boating community in an attempt to reduce the risk to our vulnerable island community. We would also like to save potential visitors a wasted journey, when they will be unable to experience the islands and all they have to offer.

We look forward to welcoming you to Alderney once the pandemic is finally at an end.

Best regards

Adam Rose
